

Quote for Radyr website

Katie Powis, community liaison manager for Plasdwr, said: “We take the illegal use by HGVs of the B4262 very seriously and are continuing to take steps to prevent it by those delivering to Plasdwr sites.

“In January we installed signage to supplement the existing highways road signage reminding any traffic to or from our sites that no access is permitted along that route.

“Our developers and contractors remind their suppliers and subcontractors’ suppliers at every opportunity, not to break the law by travelling through Radyr. This month (at the suggestion of Councillor Huw Onllwyn Jones of the Community Council) we have also printed notices (see below) which the teams are giving out to all drivers delivering to our sites and with Alun Griffiths who are undertaking the Llantrisant Road works. The leaflets tell drivers for not use Heol Isaf and that they comply with the Plasdwr Construction Environment Management Plan. They also advise that the local authority and police are patrolling the area and ask that drivers use an alternative legal route to Heol Isaf.

“Finally, as part of the planning permission for Plasdwr via the Section 106 agreement, we will be making a financial contribution to the local authority’s future improvements to Heol Isaf. While the nature of the improvements are the Council’s decision, we have submitted recommendations which include the introduction of raised tables, new footways, controlled crossings and zebra and pelican crossings.

“This is an issue that we are committed to supporting the local community with and if anyone has any further concerns they can contact me directly on katie.powis@plasdwr.co.uk”

HGVs using Heol Isaf (B4262):

Please note that the above route is restricted to 7.5 tonne vehicles so we ask that you do not travel through Radyr and Morganstown. As part of the Plasdwr Construction Environment Management Plan (CEMP) it has been agreed with Cardiff Council, regardless of the weight restriction, that we will not have construction traffic running along Heol Isaf.

The local authority and police are patrolling the area as there have been a number of concerns raised by local residents.

Please use an alternative, legal route.
